Cause Of Disaster To U.S. Jet Planes Being Sought

Probe Crashing Of Eight Planes In Thunderstorm

Three Pilots Killed;
Two Others Hurt
As Jet Planes Fall

(BULLETIN)

RICHMOND, Ind., June 9.—(INS)—Air force security experts and FBI agents hunted in grim secrecy today for signs of possible sabotage in the twisted wreckage of eight F-84 Thunderjets that crashed near Richmond, Ind.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 9.—(INS)—Air force authorities today clamped a security guard around the 25 square mile southeastern Indiana area where eight jet fighter planes crashed in a thunderstorm, killing three pilots and injuring two others.

Witnesses were stunned yesterday when the F-84 Thunderjets—part of a 37-ship formation—dropped out of the sky, one after another, near Richmond.

An investigation was opened immediately into the mass air tragedy—one of the most expensive in peacetime history. Each jet cost $275,000 to build and the estimated total loss of the eight runs to $2,200,000.

The probe is expected to cover an inquiry into the effects of atmospheric disturbances—such as electrical storms—on the super-speedy jet craft.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined special air force search.

Gen. Bradley Seeks Greater Defense Speed

By FRED DOERFLINGER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 9.—General of the Army Omar N. Bradley called for "greater speed, greater progress and greater effort" today in the military buildup of a Western defense force and said he was "still not satisfied" with the effort of any nation, including the U. S.

At the same time the five-star general told a news conference that he has not discussed a cease fire proposal in Korea with British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell and top military leaders.

Bradley, on a quick survey trip through Britain and France, declared that "to the best of my memory I did not even talk with Shinwell about the subject at all."

He conferred with the British official yesterday and several New York newspapers had said the U. S. and Great Britain had approached agreement during the meeting on new cease fire proposals to end the Korean war.

Covering a wide range of topics today, Bradley said he would like to see Greece, Turkey, Spain and Yugoslavia become part of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Hunt Wreckage Of Crashed Navy Plane; Pilot Bails Out Safely

WELLERSBURG, Pa., June 9.—(INS)—The wreckage of a navy plane from which the pilot parachuted to safety was found today near Wellersburg in Somerset county.

The single-seater Navy Helicat crashed into an isolated mountain top last night, and the pilot, whose name was not learned immediately, was found today after wandering in the woods all night.

The plane left Norfolk, Va., last night on a training flight to Washington, but the pilot later radioed that he was changing his course to Pittsburgh.

Residents of Wellersburg reported they heard a plane circling the town about 8:30 p. m. last night, and a farmer later reported hearing the craft crash.

Defying Order To Vacate Soviet Mission Is Ousted

By MARVIN STONE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SALZBURG, June 9.—The U. S. Army gave an old-fashioned "bums' rush" today to a three-man Soviet mission that defied an American order to vacate its headquarters by midnight Friday.

A seven-man Army escort team under the direction of Maj. T. E. Hartel commandeered a Soviet automobile and forcibly escorted the unwilling trio from their Salzburg building to the border separating the U. S. and Soviet zones.

The members of the Soviet mission refused to recognize an American order to leave the U. S. zone because their mission—to repatriate Soviet citizens—was completed long ago.

The Russians claim they had a right to remain where they were by the authority of the Yalta agreement.

Marshall And Ridgway Hold Long Conference

Many Rumors Caused By Mystery Visit Of Marshall To Korea

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 9.—General of the Army George C. Marshall conferred lengthily today with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, and the defense secretary's mystery visit to the Far East was expected to last at least another 48 hours.

Marshall and Ridgway were closeted all afternoon at Ridgway's home in the American Embassy compound amid continued unsubstantiated rumors of a Korean peace settlement.

Neither Marshall's statement yesterday that his dramatically secret mission to Tokyo and Korea was "strictly military" or a denial by Secretary of State Dean Acheson in Washington failed to quell the rumors.

One official told International News Service: "Sure, we probably would like a cease-fire on our terms, but I won't believe one is coming until I hear the other fellow begin to talk about it."

At Embassy Residence
Marshall stayed at Ridgway's Embassy residence as the Far East commander's personal guest and rested up during the morning from his two-day flight followed by a flying surprise visit to the Korean battlefield Friday.

The secretary conferred with Ridgway and his staff for an hour and 15 minutes at noon and then returned for lunch with the UN commander. After lunch the two generals continued their conferences.

An official close to Ridgway said that Marshall's interests, as reflected in the 12 hours or more of conversation the two men had Friday and Saturday, are global and are not pointed to Korea.

A high official in Tokyo also hinted Marshall's trip should not

Rock Used To Break Window; Value Of Watches Taken $1,500

Burglars, some time before 8 a. m. today, used a rock, the size of a baseball, to smash a display window, leading into the Perelman Jewelry store, 129 East Washington street, and fled with 20 watches. The timepieces are valued, it is reported, at $1,500.

The burglary was discovered about 9 a. m., by Ernest Huddle when he went to clean the store windows.

According to David H. Rosenblum, manager of Perelman's, 20 watches of various makes were stolen from the window. He listed them as follows:

Four Hamiltons, two men's and two women's; six Elgins, four women's and two men's; three Longines, two men's, one woman's; two Benrus, one woman's, one man's; two Wittenauers, two women's; one military watch.

Gen. McArthur Makes Denial

Denies He Favored Chinese Coalition Government In 1945

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Gen. MacArthur today branded as a lie the assertion that he favored a Chinese Nationalist-Communist coalition in 1945 and denounced Gen. Marshall's post-war mission to China as "one of the greatest blunders in American diplomatic history."

The deposed Far East commander charged that "the world now is paying in blood and disaster and will in all probability continue to do so indefinitely" for Marshall's mission.

The five-star general asserted that testimony that he favored a coalition government in China was a "prevarication without color or factual support."

Secretary of State Acheson testified earlier this week that Marshall's 1946 mission was a direct result of recommendations made by MacArthur, Gen. Wedemeyer, and Admiral Spruance.

Some Elements Of Red Forces Are Retreating

"Token Opposition" Only Is Reported In Triangle Area

By RAFAEL STEINBERG
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, June 10.—(Sunday)

—Elements of 200,000 Chinese Communist troops began abandoning their great central Korean "Iron Triangle" Saturday.

A late Saturday night field dispatch said remaining Communist troops in the area were putting up only "token opposition" to the United Nations drive which slammed out gains of more than a mile.

The dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Cecil Brownlow on the central front was received in Tokyo at 11:30 P. M. (9:30 a. m. Saturday EDT).

Previous field dispatches and the Eighth Army's Saturday night communiqué indicated that earlier in the day the Chinese and North Korean Reds were fighting for every inch of ground.

Ridges Captured

But Brownlow reported the Eighth Army captured two important ridges against slackening Red opposition and amid indications the main Chinese forces were falling back toward Kumsong, 13 miles northeast of Kumsong.

Kumsong is 66 miles northeast of Seoul and 28 miles north of the 38th Parallel. The new withdrawal from the Kumsong-Chorwon-Pyongyang "Iron Triangle" meant that the Chinese were giving up the buildup area from which they launched two ill-fated offensives into South Korea.

The Eighth Army's Saturday evening communiqué reported heavy resistance all along the cent-

Seven Traffic Deaths In County During May

Twenty-two Lawrence county accidents were investigated, in which seven persons were killed and 10 injured, during May, an increase of five killed, but a decrease of 18 hurt compared to May 1950, according to State police.

This is the largest number of persons killed in one month in auto accidents in the county, so far as is recalled, according to State police.

Property damage involved in the accidents amounted to $12,855. The major causes of the crashes were: first, failure to drive on the right side of the road; second, speed, or too fast for existing conditions; and third, failure to yield the right of way.

The State police report 130 persons were arrested last month for violation of the motor laws in Lawrence county.

curity officers in the inquiry. Engineers from the Allison Division of General Motors Corporation also were summoned. The Allison Division manufactured the motors in the ill-fated jets.

The 37 jet planes flew into the thunderstorm just 10 minutes after they had taken off from Wright-Patterson Field at Dayton, O., en route to Selfridge Field, Mich.

Eight of Planes Fall

Lightning began flashing in the sky and the eight ill-fated jets started to fall off.

Two of the fighter planes roared into a field outside of a piston ring plant near Richmond. One exploded and the other bored 15 feet into the ground. Both pilots were killed.

The third airplane was killed when its plane crashed in a farm field near Moreland.

Four of the pilots crash-landed their planes, two escaping unhurt. The eighth pilot, Maj. Richard Willis, parachuted to safety.

Names of the dead airmen were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

'Motor Cooked Out'

The injured pilots were Capt. Robert Jackson, 24, and Lt. John R. Bonard. Jackson suffered face lacerations and was taken to Reid Memorial hospital in Richmond.

Bonard suffered head injuries and was first thought to be in critical condition. However, authorities at the county hospital in New Castle, Ind., said he had improved and was being transferred to the Wright Field hospital.

Jackson's plane cracked up near the runway of the Richmond Airport. He staggered away from the wreckage and could only explain the accident by saying:

"My motor just cooked out and we dropped to earth."

"He (Marshall) talks about solutions of issues so big I hadn't even recognized them as problems."

The length of Marshall's stay in the Far East was still undecided, these sources indicated. On Friday Marshall said cryptically that it depended on "what I hear in the (Saturday) morning," but there was no indication in Tokyo of what, if any news the general had received.

Officials referred to Marshall's statements Friday in which he called his trip "strictly military," and also pointed out that Acheson in Washington testimony before a Senate committee had also stated that his fellow-cabinet member's trip was to witness the fighting in Korea.

grams to the families of the missing men signed with their names.

May Be In Russia

At the same time there were mounting unconfirmed reports that the two missing men—Donald D. MacLean and Guy Burgess—might already be in Russia or one of the satellite states.

A spokesman for the French ministry of the interior declared: "No trace of the diplomats has been found since they boarded a train at Rennes."

He added that all attempts to trace them in Paris or elsewhere in France have been in vain and declared that reports one or both have been seen in night clubs or hotels are untrue.

The belief that the two men were no longer in France was also increasing rapidly among the hundreds of detectives checking on their whereabouts throughout the country.

The disappearance of MacLean, 38, head of the American Department of the Foreign Office, and Burgess, 40, a specialist on Russia and the Far East, gave rise to a number of theories. Notions about the men ranged from an idea they are on a "continental frolic" to the possibility they are on a "two man peace mission."

Sen. Bridges (R-N. H.) said he would like to find out if Marshall's opinion of Korean war policy is changed by his first-hand visit to the scene of combat.

Acheson returns today for his eighth day on the witness stand in the Senate inquiry. Chairman Russell (D-Ga.), hoped to finish with the secretary today and Monday call Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, whose reports on China and Korea in 1945 and 1947 have been the subject of much debate.

After Wedemeyer, the joint Senate committee will question ex-Defense Secretary Louis Johnston and W. Averell Harriman, presidential adviser, before pruning its long witness list for later testimony.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE

In the past two weeks the matter of low cost housing has been before the citizens of New Castle. Proponents and opponents of the idea have presented their ideas to city council but no decision for or against it has been reached.

This is not a matter to be decided by candidates for party nomination of course but it is a matter of such importance that I believe the voters have a right to know the attitude of the candidates.

It is my opinion that the issue is of such vital importance that the people themselves should decide. I believe thoroughly in the policy of letting the people have the fullest possible say in matters concerning their government. This is such a matter.

Why not put the issue upon the ballot and let the people decide? The people can be trusted to make the proper decision and once made, all of us should abide by it.

The four Cs of credit are Capital, Capacity, Character and Conditions.

Capital has to do with the surplus left after all liabilities are subtracted from possessions. In retail trade, capacity to pay is more important than capital.

Capacity to pay is based on comparison of one's income and the obligations to be met out of that income. There should be a 20% margin between fixed expenses and income.

DECISION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals has struck a blow in defense of human rights. It has ruled that bus passengers do not have to listen to commercial radio broadcasts.

The decision was made in the Capital Transit Company case, long one of the hottest controversies in Washington. In 1949, on demand of a citizens' committee, the District Public Utilities Commission held a hearing on the bus broadcasts. It ruled in favor of the company and so, a year ago, did the Federal District Court. Now, on appeal, the company loses.

The appellate court points out that if Capital Transit compelled its passengers to read what it liked or get off the car, "the invasion of their freedom would be obvious." The court sees no difference between compulsory reading and compulsory listening.

The decision recalls the row over the broadcasting of commercial loudspeaker programs in Grand Central Station, New York City. Passenger protests led the railroad to discontinue the programs without court action.

Recalled also is the long legal battle over sound trucks. But pedestrians can walk away from sound trucks. Passengers and those waiting in railroad stations cannot escape. They are "captive audiences." The court decision establishes that they have a constitutional right, the right not to have to listen. "Freedom of attention, which forced listening destroys, is a part of liberty essential to individuals and to society."

The Bill of Rights, written before the days of electronics engineers, nevertheless can keep up with anything they can think of, the court insists.

But travel at its best is uncomfortable, accompanied as it is by overcrowding, bad ventilation and noise from within and without the vehicle. Some discomforts, the court avers, are unavoidable in mass transportation, "but forced listening is neither incidental nor inevitable."

If the Supreme Court concurs, city folks, already subjected to the clamor of the noisiest of civilizations, will be freed from at least one kind of aural intrusion, perhaps the most obnoxious and unnecessary of all.

FINE DEAL FOR EUROPE—NOT FOR US

Ever since the war Uncle Sam has been handing over billions to rehabilitate our friends in Western Europe. Now that those friends are beginning to feel chipper economically, they propose to show their appreciation (?) by short-changing us on international exchange and trade.

Don't let anybody tell you international exchange is hard to understand. It is not. Just suppose England boosts the present exchange rate of "one British pound for $2.80" in U.S. money to "one British pound for $3.80." What happens? You see at once that Uncle Sam has to pay $1 more for every pound's worth of goods he buys in the British Empire. At the same time, for every pound Britain spends in the U.S. she gets an extra dollar's worth.

Now the proposition of our European friends is to revise their currencies—pounds, francs, lire, etc.—upward on those lines.

Then everything Uncle Sam buys from his friends will go up in price, and everything his friends buy from Uncle Sam will go down in price. In a word, we'll be hooked.

It is a charming idea for our friends. But we are glad to see Secretary of the Treasury Snyder put his foot down. He declares there is "no justification for such action at a time when the United States is engaged in a great rearmament effort and is making a major contribution to friendly countries engaged in that effort."

Instead, Secretary Snyder calls upon those countries to fulfill the promises made long ago, to relax their exchange restrictions which work to our disadvantage.

Most people do not realize that currency exchange with our friends has long been a "one-way street." They can convert their pounds, francs, lire, etc., into dollars whenever they wish—but if we have pounds, francs and lire, they won't give us dollars for them. Many American citizens have substantial sums frozen in those friendly countries, sums which firms in England, France, etc., owe them, but which they can't collect.

It may be that our friends are not yet in a position to go back to the free exchange of currencies which existed before the Second World War. But if they can't afford that, it is hardly becoming of them to make it more expensive for us to be generous to them.

The American people want to go on being helpful. They do not want to be imposed upon.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FORRESTAL CENTER

No worthier memorial could have been devised than the new James Forrestal Research Center at Princeton University, to be in operation in September. Secretary Forrestal knew from bitter experience the country's great need for the scientific research to keep it strong. Extensive laboratories and 800 acres of land adjoining the Princeton campus were acquired for the Research Center by the university at a cost of $1,500,000 from the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, which moved to New York.

In the fall term nine of the 11 scientific projects assigned to the new center will be started. Proving that this Research Center has been badly needed is the fact that government research contracts will utilize all its facilities to capacity from the very start.

Vienna Pushed Into Trouble Zone

A new and potentially explosive aspect of the east-west conflict opened today with a sag in the usually friendly relations between United States and Soviet officials in Vienna.

Two entirely unconnected incidents are responsible and they follow the pattern of past differences that have arisen in Frankfurt and Berlin between western authorities and Russian military occupants.

In the minds of diplomatic observers, the disturbing element is the fact that until recently, east-west tension has been pleasantly lacking in the Austrian capital despite the fact that it is the easternmost outpost of democracy in Europe, ringed around by communism.

Cause of Situation

The events that have led to deterioration of relations in Vienna are these:

A United States military policeman, Cpl. Paul J. Gressens of Rochester, N.Y., was shot and killed when he challenged two Russian soldiers out of bounds in the international sector a few weeks ago.

The Soviet Repatriation Commission assigned to Vienna under the Yalta agreement is held by Allied authorities to have to have out of its usefulness and been told to depart.

On both issues, the Soviets reject entirely the stand taken by U.S. High Commissioner Walter Donnelly and the American military commander, Lt. Gen. Stafford L. Irwin.

Soviets Accused

In the case of the Gressens shooting, American officials in Vienna and the State Department in Washington have accused the Soviets of direct responsibility and have demanded compensation for members of the slain soldier's family.

But the Russians have failed to give any answer whatever.

Originally, Soviet High Commissioner Pavel Sviridov promised full cooperation in search for the "soldier" responsible and assured Donnelly they would be punished if found guilty.

But a few days later, Sviridov did a complete about-face. He said that Gressens and a companion American MP had opened fire first and without warning, which completely overlooked the fact that both men had been assigned on a regulation rotation tour of duty to patrol and protect the international area of the Austrian capital.

Soviet Claims

With regard to the repatriation mission, the Soviets insist that it is entitled to remain in Vienna under terms of the Yalta agreement. They are standing on this argument despite documentary proof that in all the years it has lived in luxury in Viennese hotels, it has accomplished the return to Russia of one sole and solitary citizen.

Since the end of the war, there has been an east-west truce in Vienna that has been imperilled on comparatively few occasions.

The city and its Allied occupants are at a disadvantage, however, should the Russians decide to impose a serious crisis such as the blocked railroads.

On that historic occasion, one of the milestones in the long and dreary war of ideologies between East and West, the western allies had physical attributes that are not to be found in the Vienna situation.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Lt. Gen. Curtis Lemay were able to mount the famed airlift from the huge Rhein-Main Airport near Frankfurt, utilizing the crack air force personnel assigned to Wiesbaden to land with gigantic cargoes at Berlin's great Tempelhof Air-drome.

In the Vienna area, the United States and the other Western powers are permitted, under international agreement, only the use of tiny Tullin airbase, some 20-odd miles outside of Vienna.

Through Soviet Territory

The roads from the airfield to the city proper run through Soviet-held territory.

In addition, the Allies agreed to confine their flights to a certain air canal leading to Fullin.

These restrictions rule out any extensive operations such as the Berlin airlift unless the Western powers consider the situation inefficiently grave to risk Soviet charges of violating agreements signed long ago.

The two cases that are causing concern on the Danube at the moment may be settled amicably. The Russians have a habit of delaying long in a diplomatic dispute and then backing down with more or less grace at the final moment.

But Vienna, long regarded as an oasis of comparative peace in a strife-ridden Europe, has been pushed into the trouble zone, unexpectedly and uncomfortably.

Folks Of Fame

John Yorkliffe was born at Hips-well, Yorkshire, England, circa 1320. He was educated at Oxford and became a master there for a time. Later he was a popular preacher and religious reformer. He first rebelled against some of the customs of the Roman Catholic church, and later against its constitution. He wrote and distributed a number of tracts, and appeared at the ordinary people through itinerant preachers whom he had organized. He also translated the Bible into English. His insistence was on inward religion in opposition to the formalism of the time. He was condemned as heretical, but except for brief periods of detention, principally in his own home, he was never persecuted. He died on New Year's Eve, 1384. His bones were dug up and burned 40 years after his death.

Lt. General George E. Stratemeyer, United States Army Air Force general, was born Nov. 24, 1890, in Cincinnati, O., and educated at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. Commissioned as second lieutenant, he was promoted through the grades to brigadier general in 1948. He was the commanding general at the southeast Air Corps training center at Maxwell Field, Ala., in 1941; air commander of the China-Burma-India theater of operations in 1944. He is now a lieutenant general commanding the Far East Air Force.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

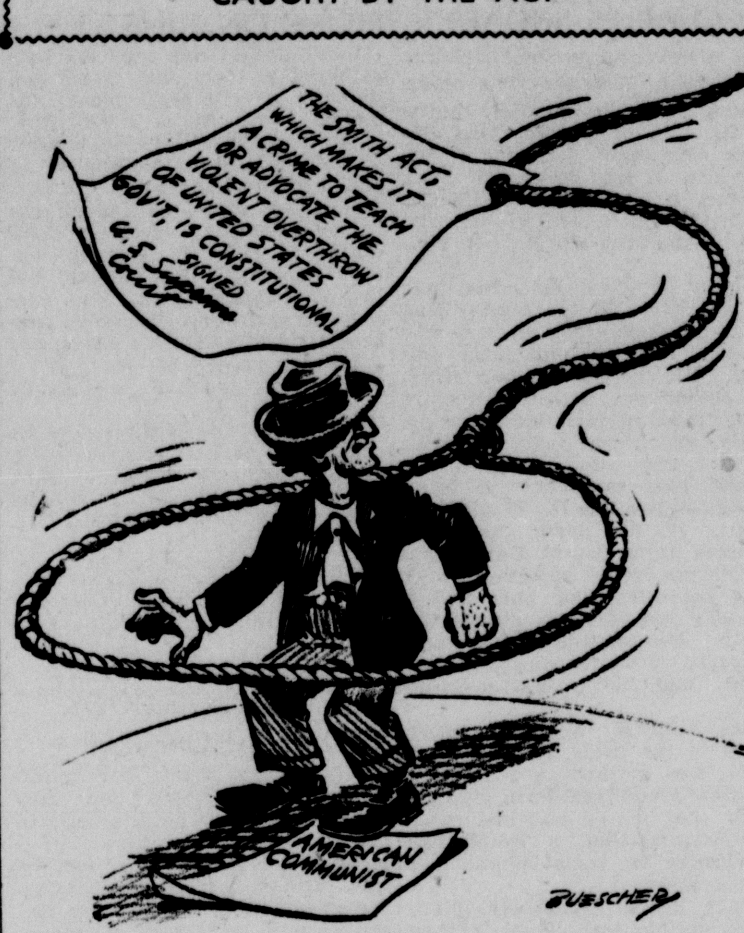

Innovative living applies to dress! Yes, if you are living a full life your dressing style will be different than it once was. Demand for difference has caused the manufacturers to produce clothing that is much more colorful than previous. Men's shoes are making a change . . . look in the store windows . . . read the printed advertisements . . . men now wear a slipper type shoe that some might wish to call the loafer. No shoe strings to tie . . . and the shoe follows the contour of the foot. Comfortable first of all . . . colorful, attractiveness has been added. It's not a fad . . . it's innovative living. Suits . . . slacks . . . shirts . . . Changing because men have changed from the rule and are practicing innovation . . . Why? Simply because comfort is prime . . . women long ago found in dressing that innovative living was practical.

Long stockings once were a must for the school child in the lower grades . . . Today, our children can dress themselves much easier because the clothing styles have changed . . . The style change does more than permit the child to pull on a short pair of socks . . . it makes the housewife's chore of washing easier. New materials in the stocking have added even greater ease to the weekly washing problem.

Automatic washing machines . . . ironers . . . and materials that need no ironing all adds up to innovative living. How far along this route have you and your family traveled? Like many of us you probably have only scratched the surface . . . exciting times are ahead for those who wish to take advantage of new items . . . and by using their own thinking power to further use items already offered . . . that's innovative living.

Call it short cuts if you like . . . short cuts have made this nation . . . greater production in factories, which means greater consumer goods . . . because the workman developed a short cut . . . unknowingly he was starting his life under innovative living rules . . . it's now recent and it's here to stay.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

'Sanctity Of The Individual'

CLINTON, Iowa, June 9.—"This June, the month of roses, of golden, sunny hours. So went the song that we sang on that high-school graduation day a great many years ago. We came onto the stage to the march from Tannhauser. There was a speaker, too, and what he said must have been very quickly forgotten if it was taken in at all.

World War I was coming to an end in a final and more terrible bloodletting than had occurred up to that time. But to us of the graduating class Europe seemed unbelievably far away. The war might have been happening on another planet.

Now, after so many years and so much frantic history, one member of that class has come back to be with no scruples of any kind involved, in fact, it becomes a duty to denounce him and bring about his destruction. This can be applied to a whole class—you call them Kulaks and you starve them to death.

Individual Submerged

The end of the Communist state—its final perfection—is a society like that of the ants and the bees. The individual is submerged in the blindly instinctual performance of a task for which he has been biologically specialized.

The speaker ventured the opinion that we couldn't afford too much self-satisfaction on this score. It may have been the nostalgia of an old grad, but it seemed to him that the differences in individuality were sharper in that other era and that there was a much greater willingness to recognize and to understand those differences. Maybe it was just easy-going, old-fashioned tolerance.

But he remembered that you couldn't walk up main street if you called Main avenue now, without running into a half-dozen people, each one of whom had a character as separate and as set apart as could possibly be. And they were not "characters" or "types" but individuals who had shared but also separate lives.

The demonic totalitarian, Hitler, prophesies that while he and the Nazis might go down to defeat, the world would nevertheless have set. The fog of poison they driven to follow the example they had set. The fog of poison they released—the vicious beauty of labeling people and thereby dehumanizing them—has spread so far that it sometimes seems Hitler's prophecy may be about to come true.

But no one can be pessimistic looking at a graduating class, even in times such as ours. These people are in spite of everything. The speaker feels that he probably has given them pretty thin fare. Yet he declares he cherishes a sneaking hope that maybe they'll remember some part of what he has said. You would think that after all these years he'd know better.

NEW YORK—Defense Mobilizer Wilson: "Our plan to build America's might looks far beyond the outcome in Korea. Tragic though that war is, it is militarily a universal combat."

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — Robert Tilge, a French leader of the moral re-armament movement: "If each of us thought the world was in danger, we would be better off. We have hardly begun to rearm."

WASHINGTON — Bernard Baruch: "Our last, best hope for averting another world war was in getting stronger militarily without delay. We have hardly begun to rearm."

WASHINGTON — Defense Mobilizer Wilson: "Our plan to build America's might looks far beyond the outcome in Korea. Tragic though that war is, it is militarily a universal combat."

RICHER

He is one of the richest men that I know. As they say on the street he has "oodles of dough." But he grumbled and frowned. When I asked what was wrong He explained he had stayed awake all the night long.

"I tossed on my pillow," he said with a yawn. "Never once closed my eyes from the midnight to dawn. I am worn out today. I am too tired to think. It was sleep that I needed, but got not a wink."

I said, when complaining I thought he was through. "I can prove that last night I was richer than you." In amazement he questioned: "You richer than I?"

"Yes, I had that good sleep you weren't able to buy." (Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

BACK TO THE STICKS

ENDICOTT, N. Y.—Police had to take a distraught "rube" back to the sticks after his hair-raising encounter with a city automobile. The provincial, a roving hare, ran into the side of a moving car, was picked up in a box by police and discharged at the village limits.

The harem of Mouley Ismail, sultan of Morocco, presented him with 1,100 sons and daughters. He died in 1727, aged 80.

Harking Back Again!

By PAUL GALICCO

At the risk of becoming the town bore, I keep harking back to what life was like in these United States in the days of my youth, and when I think of travel then and now, I do believe that we have retrogressed and all in all appear to have more gadgets, but much less fun.

Take the simple matter of the Red Cap, the man who follows the honorable and quite ancient profession of porter. Today he comes equipped with a little rubber-tired carriage, barrow, wagon or handcart and a pocketful of tags, tickets, slips and coupons which he clips or ties to your luggage, and it is all very fine when you can get one, but he appears to be a vanishing race and particularly he is never to be found when he is most needed, that is, when you are coming from or going to a train.

In my youth, either less people travelled, or there were more porters. For to arrive at the railroad station was to be beset by a perfect swarm of Red Caps, all competing to serve you, and it was the same at the platform below where your train berthed on arrival.

System Different Then

The system was different then; they hung themselves all over with your baggage, no doubt straining their constitutions severely, but you could always engage an auxiliary to assist him. They performed for a gratuity, that is to say you gave them a tip which varied in accordance with your parsimony, generosity, or just being travel-wise, and this was no doubt not a good thing since no man who performs a back-breaking service ought to be dependent upon whim or charity for his living. But the odd thing was that he appeared to enjoy it and competed fiercely and worked hard and long hours and was always available.

Today he belongs to a union, he is paid a salary, his charges are fixed at so much per bag, and he doesn't appear to have the slightest interest in you or your luggage, or lugging it, or meeting trains. Mostly he stands about the railroad station with his arms folded in an aloof manner and when asked whether he could tote a couple of valises mentions the 9:24 for Memphis replies that he has a previous engagement.

Or when meeting trains he spreads himself thin by means of the double-decked car, which accommodates practically the luggage of an entire car. This is still better than yanking it down a half mile of platform yourself, but if you happen to be in a hurry upon arriving you can forget about a personal caddy such as we used to be able to acquire in the old days. You go to the cab entrance and wait until he arrives with everybody's bags. Sometimes, that seems to take days.

There Are No Cabs

And even when he does arrive you are still stuck, for there are no cabs. When are there no cabs? Whenever the train comes in and you need to rush to your hotel or appointment; that's when there are no cabs. Twenty-five years ago there seemed always to be cabs lined up and waiting to take you to your destination. Now there is a Starter to be bribed and three other fellows to drop off first before you finally arrive at the Traveller's Rest. Is this progress?

The stainless steel car, hermetically sealed and air-conditioned, the new Pullman in which there is every last comfort, is a wonderful thing when compared with the gritty, cinder-covered green or red, pusher parlor cars I used to ride as a babe a half century ago, but I tend to remember that the staff and crew of this rolling stock seemed to love us when we travelled in those days which they do not now. Am I willing to exchange a gritless ride and a cinderless eye for affection? Yes, I am—any day. The old-time train crews made travelling a mysterious and delightful adventure shared in by one and all. Today's porter has let all that nickel, chrome and leather dehumanize him. I get where I go to, unrumpled, but chilled in soul and dampened in spirit.

Used To Be Big Moment

The dining car used to be one of the really big moments of the trip when I was callow, and probably much easier to please. Oh, that leisurely dinner after first taking advice from the waiter as to what was recommended and how long it would take to cook it to order. Today's blue plate is more efficient, I realize, but it is as soul-less as the waiter who slings it at you and appears anxious only to get you out of there so that the next customer can be hurried through the mill.

For again there are more people than tables, and the servers are harassed and filled apparently with a great sense of dislike for their clients, or what is even worse, no like at all and they perform as automatons thus robbing the meal of its attractive social aspects. A lonely man travelling used to be able to count upon at least passing the time in the Club car. But no more. I suppose they have discovered that we are content with less speaking to, but the general effect is saddening. Or do you kids find modern travel just as exciting as I used to be in my time?

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDLES

Six months ago a local haberdasher ran an advertisement headed:

"Feet cold? Buy warm socks!" Today that same store's ad reads:

"Feet hot? Buy cool socks!" Six months ago we were complaining about the cold.

Now we are kicking about the heat.

Three months ago we had a flood that washed away some of our soil and threatened to kill the dormant plants.

Today the ground is dry as dust and the drought threatens to wither all vegetation.

There is always SOMETHING to kick about, to worry about, to struggle with.

"Divine discontent" a poet called it.

The only "divine" feature about it that I can see is that probably God, in His wisdom, knew that it is not good for us to live in unalloyed happiness.

Humans apparently can't stand too much of anything.

Too much contentment makes people lazy.

Too much money makes them get into mischief.

Too much food makes them fat and gives them indigestion.

Too much progress makes them overvalue the material things and neglect the spiritual side of life.

A woman left her husband the other day and took along her two young children and the family toaster.

After two weeks the husband came to the conclusion that she had left him for good.

He notified the police and was asked whether they had done much fighting at home.

"No," said the husband. "We weren't able to buy."

MARCELLA-PETRILLO IMPRESSIVE WEDDING

Seasonal flowers and ferns decorating the altar of St. Vitus church Thursday morning created a lovely background setting for the marriage of Miss Adeline Marcella and John Nicholas Petrillo, Farrell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marcella, 1024 South Mill street, this city. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Petrillo, Farrell.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, assisted by Rev. Fr. Albert Inteso and Rev. Fr. Raymond Heintz, solemnized the double ring ceremony at 10 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in misty fine du Pont nylon tulle and imported Brussels lace, which was hand embroidered with Rosa Montes rhinestones over Beidling's slipper satin. A deep V-shaped off-shoulder neckline and short dolman sleeves featured the bodice of the gown, and long gauntlets were pointed at the wrists and adorned with medallions. The tight fitted bodice had a pointed effect waistline which was lavishly adorned with medallions of the Brussels lace with the Rosa Montes rhinestones. These medallions were daintily scattered throughout the voluminous double nylon skirt and train. The fingertip veil of imported French illusion was fastened to a crown of Rosa Montes rhinestones wired to form a single stranded halo, and complemented the original bridal creation. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Patsy Venetti, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow gown with a Pequant satin bodice with barely perceptible net edging. The great swish of the floor-length imported net skirt was delicately scrolled with satin piping.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Patty Biondi, Francine Fazzone, Mary Jo Vitale, Patty Vitale, Adele Richards, Julie Ann Sbarro, Rita Mae Marcella, sister of the bride, and Kathleen Sheldon were dressed identically to the matron of honor in misty mauve, bluish pink and aqua, styled ankle-length. All the attendants' gowns were designed with tiny waist hugging jackets with tiny stand-up collars and cap sleeves, with large picture hats of horsehair with large satin bows as pretty accents. The matron of honor carried a spray of yellow roses and the maids carried sprays of tinted carnations to match their gowns.

The groom's twin brother, August Petrillo, served him as best man and the ushers were James DeMoro, Richard Joseph, Francis Petrillo, brother of the groom; Joseph Cannone and Tommy Nevan, all of Farrell, James Caravella, Anthony Richards and Nicholas Maciarelli, all of New Castle.

Nuptial songs, "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Ave

Maria", were presented by Mrs. Frances Colao at the organ.

Approximately 800 guests were received at the evening reception held at the Sharon American Legion hall, Sharon.

Following a wedding trip to Miami Beach and Nassau by car and boat, the car being a wedding gift of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fazzone, Mr. and Mrs. Petrillo will reside in Farrell.

The bride attended New Castle high school and was graduated from South Broward high school, Hollywood, Fla., with the class of 1950. Mr. Petrillo was graduated from Farrell high school in 1942 and is also a graduate of the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science. He is a funeral director in Farrell.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

John Mason Brown, working on a biography of Daniel Boone, learned that when the intrepid trapper was asked, "Is it true that in all your years in the untracked woods you never were lost?" he replied: "That's right, but I must admit I once was bewildered for five days."

In the early days of the medical profession in the Blue Ridge country, most doctors carried a stock of drugs in the bottles and jars on the shelves in their back rooms, and were not above filling their own prescriptions for well-heeled patients. This custom naturally created deep resentment among the owners of the drug stores in the vicinity, and a running feud developed on both sides of the fence.

In Mount Jackson, Va., one day, Sam Bissell appeared in Dr. Canfield's office with a stiff neck and flaming rash. "Done anything for this, Sam?" asked the doc. "Well," said Sam, "I dropped into Carson's drugstore and..." "And what did that arrogant, presumptuous renegade do for you?" interrupted the doc scornfully. Sam Bissell continued calmly. "He told me to come to you."

Private Enterprise is taking care of NEW CASTLE'S HOUSING NEEDS!

The advocates of Public Housing would have you believe that nothing has been or is being done about housing in New Castle and vicinity.

The United States Bureau of Census figures for New Castle reveal that in the 10 year period from January 1, 1940, to December 31, 1950, there were 1195 Housing Units erected in the City of New Castle. Conservatively, this figure can be multiplied 2½ times when the Greater New Castle Area is taken into consideration, or about 3000 housing units in the 10 year period, and all by the cooperation of LOCAL INDUSTRY, LOCAL LABOR, LOCAL CAPITAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner and Taxpayer

It is time for you to become concerned about the Public Housing proposal now being considered by your City Council.

DON'T LET ANYONE FOOL YOU PUBLIC HOUSING IS NOT FREE and, you, the Taxpayer, eventually pay the bill.

If you don't want to add to your burden of taxes and mortgage payments a large part of your neighbor's rent, ASK YOUR COUNCIL FOR AN OPPORTUNITY TO VOTE ON THIS IMPORTANT ISSUE.

LAWRENCE COUNTY CHAPTER
NATIONAL HOME AND PROPERTY OWNERS' FOUNDATION

ALL IS NOT LOST— There Is Still Time To Save Something

In my recent political ad published over three weeks ago, I showed the Voting Public how Mr. Travers, in his anxiety to get any kind of pension for himself, lost almost $20,000 of the county employees and taxpayers money. The loss occurred when the newly elected County Commissioners abandoned Mr. Travers' plan because of its exorbitant cost. MR. TRAVERS NEEDS THIS ADDITIONAL FOUR YEARS TO GET A PENSION FOR HIMSELF AT THE TAXPAYERS EXPENSE. Under this present plan Mr. Travers would be entitled to a pension for the rest of his life; beginning the first Monday of January 1956, he will get a pension of $2,100 of $4,180.00, or approximately $1,375.00 per year. Based upon his life expectancy this will cost the taxpayers almost $18,000.00. Of course his defeat will save you taxpayers this $18,000.00.

THE $20,000.00 IS GONE—THAT CANNOT BE RECOVERED, BUT ALL IS NOT LOST—THE TAXPAYERS CAN STILL SAVE $18,000.00 BY DEFEATING MR. TRAVERS.

An ordinary pension was not enough for Mr. Travers. His Pension Plan provides that he, as an original County Commissioner, will get twice as much as any subsequent elected County Commissioner who joins the Pension Fund. If Mr. Travers is elected for another four years, his pension plan will give him 32 years credit for his 16 years on the payroll.

To make myself clear, any new Commissioner, Republican or Democrat, who has an easy conscience like Mr. Travers, in the matter of grabbing Public Money and who would join a Pension Fund, would still have to serve 32 years to get as much from the County as Mr. Travers wants for 16 years.

WHILE IT IS APPARENT MR. TRAVERS NEGLECTED THE PUBLIC, NO ONE CAN TRUTHFULLY SAY HE NEGLECTED HIMSELF.

The facts are now out—Mr. Travers has done much to conceal the facts concerning his Pension Fund and how, as a member, he will profit most. In the March 4, 1950, issue of an out-of-town paper, Mr. Travers is guilty of a deliberate falsehood. In this issue there appears this statement "Travers disclaimed any personal desire for a County Pension."

I believe in adequate and reasonable pensions for County employees, but am against any pension for elected officials, and if elected I will not join the Lawrence County Pension Fund.

Pulaski Asks County's Aid

Township Residents Offer Assistance

Residents of Pulaski township met with the county commissioners Friday morning to ask for aid in improving a two mile stretch of the Bedford-Hubbard road. The road is a township road, and is not paved. Traffic raises dust clouds that drift into the homes and creates a situation that is annoying. The group present represented a larger group which had met in the township earlier in the week. They told the commissioners they were willing to put in some money if the commissioners would aid. It was suggested they work through the road supervisors and that if possible, the county would aid.

Outdoor Training For Girl Scouts To Start On Monday

Adult Girl Scouts will gather at Cascade Park at 1:30 Monday, June 11, 1951, for a Work Shop on Outdoor Skills. The park will be explored by learning and laying trail signs.

Nature games from materials at the park will be demonstrated. Mrs. Myron Milbourn will have a session on stones, flowers, and trees we should know. Materials will be gathered for making various types of toasters and sticks for "Stick Cooking."

Each person attending is requested to bring her own lunch if she is staying through the 6 p.m. dinner hour, or if she desires a lunch during the afternoon. It should consist of food which can be toasted or cooked on sticks so that the toasters can be tried out. Firebuilding will be demonstrated at this time.

There will be new songs and a camp fire program under the direction of Mrs. Clarke Shumate. Children may be brought along. Senior Girl Scouts will be on hand to assist with the little folks. All adults are asked to bring jack knives.

Pastor Selects Unusual Subject

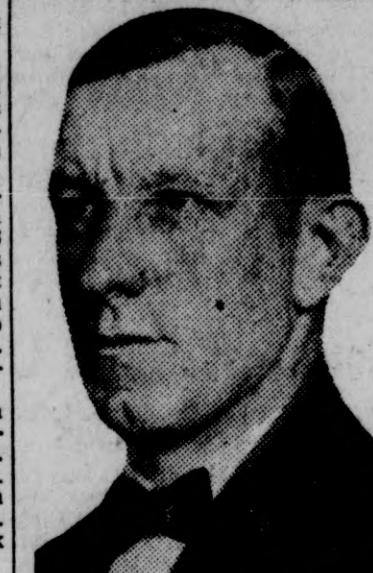

Rev. Paul E. Walther, pastor of Bethany Lutheran church, has selected an unusual subject for his sermon on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. "Or Else" has been chosen as his theme, implying the thought, "practice what you preach" or else you will "reap what you sow."

June 10 marks the beginning of a "Come Back to Church" campaign at the East Side church. TWO ARE SENTENCED Gilbert Fadeley, Market street, Youngstown, and Donald Jones, Lowellville, O., R.D. 2, were sentenced by Alderman J. C. Brice Thursday to serve five days in the county jail. It was charged by Detective Tom Boyle that Donald Jones drove an auto which struck the parked car of Gordon Jones, Mingo Junction, O., in South Mercer street, Wednesday night. Fadeley, owned the car Donald Jones, drove, according to the detective.

The medicine ball was invented by Robert J. Roberts, physical director of the Boston YMCA, in 1895.

W. E. Erk Enters Council Race

Third Ward Railroader Seeks Republican Nomination In July

WILLIAM E. ERK

To the Citizens of New Castle: I wish to announce that I shall be a candidate for City Council in the coming primary election, Tuesday, July 24, 1951, on the Republican ticket.

I was born in Pittsburgh on January 24, 1889, and came to New Castle 41 years ago. I am married and have four children. I live and own property at 730 County Line street in the third ward of this city, and am a member of the Second United Presbyterian Church, County Line and Milton streets. I am also a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and have been for over 38 years.

I am a machinist by trade, and I have had office and contracting experience. On August 10, 1912, I was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, E. & A. Division as a brakeman, and later was promoted to a conductor. I am still employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and have now been for over 39 years. I am not in favor of pensions for elected officials, but I am in favor of pensions for all employees who are working for the city. I was elected local chairman by the members of Lodge No. 955, New Castle, Pa., and held this position some time ago for over 25 years prior to 1946, and was endorsed for City Council. On May 21, 1951, I was a witness against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company discontinuing of passenger trains Nos. 404 and 405 between Sharon, Farrell, New Castle, Koppel and Beaver Falls. I believe these trains should be left on, as this is the only train from Sharon into Pittsburgh, and New Castle will be effected. I will represent all people and not the few, and will not be a "yes" man. We are paying more taxes, and getting less service year by year. What is the matter? Some of the facts are: Expenses to run Cascade Park for the year 1950, $20,335.10, your tax money; $6,123.58, earnings for year; $14,211.52 short. Who pays? Expenses to run golf course for the year 1950, $11,265.70, your tax money; $9,517.70, earnings for year; $1,748.00 short. Who pays? City rents dance hall at Cascade Park, and pays $2300.00 for insurance on the office and pavilion; rental charge, $625.00; $1,675.00 short. Who pays? How long is this going to continue, laying more money out than we are taking in, before we put these places on a paying basis. With the money we save, we can buy the necessary equipment to keep our city in good condition. The total estimated expenditures with Sinking and Library fund for year 1951 is $1,141,443.49. I am for economy, and against the present extravagant expenditure of the taxpayers' money. I am interested in the welfare and progress of the city of New Castle, and I shall not be obligated to any political machine. I believe that with labor representation in the council it would be most helpful to plan its future progress. If, after a fair consideration, you feel I can help you and save you money, I will be grateful for your support. (Signed) WILLIAM E. ERK. 5th name on the ballot. (Political Advertisement)

A SPRIG

A little green sprig of parsley helps dress up a dinner. It looks good but it has something more than looks. There are things in green vegetables that help to keep the body in good condition. It does not seem to take very much of any one thing. It seems better to eat a lot of different kinds of vegetables than a lot of any one kind. Butch and Grandad want potatoes every day but Mom sneaks in a little endive and lettuce and pepper and carrot and parsley and cucumber and onion and turnip and parsnip and tomato and cabbage and escarole and dandelion to make their motor keep moving along.

IT IS OUT OF COMMITTEE, THE BILL SHOULD BE PASSED

The Robinson-Dent motor truck bill has been reported from the Highway Committee of the State Senate and is now upon the Senate calendar for action.

It is the first step on the road to equity for motor trucks. The committee members have our appreciation for their action.

The Robinson-Dent bill is a fair bill, one that does not add height or length to motor trucks but merely makes adjustments in weights that are long overdue.

The bill gives the motor truck industry a square deal. It should be passed.

McGiverly Complains Of A Cool Reception

Horatius Q. McGiverly (of the Spring Hill McGiverly's) took time from his gardening today to drop around for a bit of a chat.

"It's a cool reception I got outside the door" complained our old friend. "First I see a sign that says Uncle Walt's Frozen Custard and the next thing I'm eating one of the things." What's the connection between frozen custard and crank cases? says he.

We straightened our old friend out by explaining that we now have a frozen custard booth outside for the refreshment of our friends and customers. After trying one, Mr. McG. agreed it was quite the best frozen custard he had ever eaten.

You will like it too.

Indians Trounce Oil City Athletics 16-6, Edge Nearer Second Place

Yankees Defeat White Sox 4-2, Indians Top Red Sox

Al Milnar Hammers Two Homers, Indians Use Patched Up Lineup

(Special To The News)
OIL CITY, June 9.—Manager Al Milnar batted in seven runs for his New Castle Indians here last night, at Ramapo Field, on two homers, and a double to give the Tribe a 16-6 win in a Mid-Atlantic loop game.

Milnar was the batting hero of the patched up New Castle lineup, that found Walt Kowalski missing, having went home to New York City to attend to some business.

Steve Magula is ailing with an infected leg, and Bill Green was injured sliding into second in the sixth inning last night. The Indians used Rossman at second and Zedalis in left the final three innings.

Ciske Winning Hurler
Bill Ciske the big Wisconsin blond hurler returned to form last night, allowing the Oilers but nine hits and fanning 10 batters. The losing hurler was Woodeschick who joined the Athletics yesterday.

Chet Butler had three hits in four trips, and Toles two hits, good for three runs batted in. Frisina had two hits in four trips. Frisina and Butler had doubles.

Oilers Set Players
The Oil City team has secured several new players and will be rough from here in. Herb Churchill, former New Castle hurler, has been sold to Erie to the Oil City club, along with Johnstown Seymour, who was with Johnstown last year. Three new players—Woodeschick a hurler, Pizarro a Cuban outfielder, and Harabedian a catcher joined Oil City yesterday to give them more player strength.

Tonight New Castle and Oil City will play a single game at 8 o'clock, and a double-header Sunday the first game at 1:30 o'clock.

New Castle will return home Monday to meet Butler in a three-game series.

Niagara Falls and Erie split a twin bill 3-2, 4-3 last night putting the Indians closer to second place.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JOHN De GROS, eastern representative of the State Athletic commission which supervises boxing and wrestling in Pennsylvania, reported at Pittsburgh Friday he expects Philadelphia to soon have two champions. He said he believes that Percy Bassett will win the lightweight title, and Gil Turner will capture the welterweight championship. Turner never lost an amateur bout, scored 18 knockouts as a pro and beat the old-timer, Beau Jack. Relative to Bassett, said he expected Percy's superior punching and conscientiousness about training will eventually bring him the title. . . . Elijah (Little Dynamite) Williams, Washington boxer, who was knocked out in the national capital Thursday night, was given a 50-50 chance to survive, according to Friday reports. He suffered a fractured skull when he was kayoed by Featherweight Gene Smith in the tenth round. His head struck the canvas hard when he was felled by a right uppercut. . . . Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A.C., is finding it tough to operate the June 15 wrestling show at Flaherty field. Since losing his headquarters, he has had to convert his home into a "box office." Persons who want tickets may telephone 6914-M, day or night. Indications point to a mammoth crowd at the male and feminine grapple spectacle. . . . Jeanne Ruggles, bowling for the Sterlings of Stockton, Calif., rolled a league high score of 222, 238 and 233 for a 693 total. Wonder what is the high score of the local WIBC players? Many of the 2,200 who witnessed Tuesday night's game at Flaherty field, came away with a feeling that it was the best and prettiest baseball plant hereabouts.

AN ODDITY OF THURSDAY'S game between the Elliotts and Universals is that both first basemen, by the same last name, had the same number of putouts. J. Razzano of Elliotts had eight, and P. Razzano of Universals, also had eight. . . . Hughes certainly was in fine form for the Indies. He struck out 13 and allowed only one hit. However, he gave three passes, but the Indies beat Hillsville, 3-1. Mosley, shortstop for the Indies stole two bases. There were a lot of runners left stranded in the DeCarbo vs. Croton game. Ten Crotonites were left on base and eight DeCarbos. Dupuy, Rubies and Nicholson and Calderaro and Rubies, executed double plays for Croton. . . . Vessella got two hits for West Pittsburg, one was a triple and the other a double. Shriver of the Fees out-hurled Panella of West Pittsburg. . . . Judging from the City Baseball league standing, based on the returns submitted, it is a decidedly hot race. Three teams are tied for first place and there should be large crowds at all of the Sunday afternoon games, which start at 2:30 p.m.

Charge Hijacking Of $72,000 Cargo

WILMINGTON, Del., June 9.—(INS)—Charles B. Meushaw, 28, of Baltimore, was charged today with the hijacking of a $72,000 truck cargo of cigars at Trainer, near Chester, Pa., last Tuesday. FBI Agents arrested Meushaw, an ex-convict, after an eight-block pursuit in Baltimore. An unidentified accomplice reportedly remains at large. Meushaw led police to Wilmington and the trailer-truck, its cargo intact. The vehicle was abandoned shortly after Meushaw and a companion allegedly forced the driver, Frank Lemaster, to "take a walk."

Air Force Officers May Lose Ratings If Not In Reserves

Major Adam Krezo, commanding officer, Flight B, 9530th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron, Greer building, announced today that officers and airmen previously assigned to the Air Force who received Army of the United States appointments or temporary promotions, may, if their appointment or promotion lapse, lose all chance of regaining their grades and ratings in the event of future recall.

It may be remembered that during World War II, the Air Force was a part of the Army of the United States and all appointments and promotions made during this period were made in the Army of the U. S., which was related directly with the U. S. Army and under the administration of the U. S. Army Chief of Staff.

Now that reorganization of the Air Force and Air Force Reserve programs are in progress, personnel who are not participating in some Air Force Reserve Unit (organized or voluntary) may be returned to their status of Army of the U. S.

In the event former members of the Air Force allowed lapse of appointments or promotions by reason of non-participation in an Air Force Reserve Unit they will be transferred to an inactive status and their commission or promotion will not be renewed.

Personnel are advised that participation in an Air Force Reserve Unit (Vol.) such as Flight B, 9530th VART Sq., here in New Castle, does not mean they will be recalled to active duty as the recall system does not recall units as a whole in the volunteer program, and as recent recall orders has shown, no preference is shown to personnel assigned to a VART squadron.

For further information you are invited to attend the meeting of Flight B at 7:30, Friday evenings in the Greer building, room 206, or contact Maj. Krezo or Captain Frew in the Frew building.

Reading Club To Start At Library

Indian war bonnets will be the style at the end of the summer, when the awards are made for the Indian Reading Club. This was planned as a special activity for the girls and boys of New Castle by Mrs. Walter McKee, children's librarian at the Free Public Library.

All school children from grade one through grade five, are eligible to join, and awards of an Indian headband with feathers will be made according to the number of books read during the summer months. With many activities to compete with children's leisure time, wise parents can do much for their children by encouraging them to form good reading habits.

A schedule of school visiting has been completed by Mrs. McKee to tell the students about the summer program but further information may be obtained at the Free Public Library.

Sent To Fort Dix For Reassignment

Cpl. Robert Huddle, son of Mrs. Helen Huddle, 412 Grant street, New Castle, has arrived at Fort Dix, N. J., for reassignment.

Huddle had served with the United Nations forces in Korea, as a member of the 25th Division until wounded near Pyongyang, January 16, 1951. He was then returned to the states for hospitalization at Fort Devens, Mass.

Cpl. Huddle entered the Army January 28, 1948.

Ceramics Association Meeting June 15-16

Sixth annual spring meeting of The Pennsylvania Ceramics Association will be held in the Art Gallery, Mineral Industries building, The Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pennsylvania, on Friday and Saturday, June 15-16, 1951.

A balanced program of technical information, business and recreation has been arranged for the two-day proceedings.

Zeigler Invited To Schiff Reservation For Scout Training

Ray N. Zeigler, scoutmaster of troop 12, sponsored by the Second U. P. church, will attend a wood-badger training course to be held at Schiff Scout reservation, Mendham, N. J., June 23 to July 1.

Wood-badger training was formerly conducted only at Gilwell, England, and has been conducted in the United States only for the past three years. It is primarily a course of training for instructors.

Those who take the training do so only upon the personal invitation of the chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, and in view of the fact that only 472 scoutmasters in the United States have been invited to take this training, the Lawrence County Council is honored to have Ray Zeigler as their participant.

Wood-badger training was originated in England by Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement in the world.

Wave To Visit Local Recruiting Station

Marcia Johnston, yeoman first class, U. S. Navy, from the Pittsburgh recruiting station and office of naval officer procurement, will visit the New Castle recruiting station on June 13, 14 and 15, 1951.

Yeoman Johnston, who enlisted in September 1944, received her recruit training at the Naval Training School at Hunter College, Bronx, N. Y. She was then transferred to the yeoman school in the Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, Iowa. Upon completion of this training, she was assigned to various naval stations in the New York City area. Miss Johnston has also been on duty in Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia.

She will be happy to discuss different phases of navy life with interested young women in the New Castle district.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

COOKIE RECIPES

Grandma's cookie jar may be a thing of the past, but there's no reason why the children can't make their own cookies on a rainy day or whenever else the spirit moves. Here are a couple of recipes that shouldn't be too difficult for youngsters 10 years of age and older.

Old-Fashioned Soft Molasses Cookies

8 cups of sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ginger
10 tablespoons boiling water
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 cups molasses
1 cup melted lard
1/2 cup melted butter

Sift flour once, measure 4 cups, add baking soda, salt and spices and sift together three times. Combine molasses, melted shortening and boiling water. Add this to flour mixture and blend well. Add remaining 4 cups flour gradually, beating well after each addition. Let stand in cool place about one hour. Turn onto lightly floured board. Roll 1/4-inch thick. Cut with large floured cookie cutter; sprinkle with sugar and bake in 425-degree oven 15 minutes.

Chocolate Rolled-Oats Cookies

1 can sweetened condensed milk
2 oz. unsweetened cooking chocolate
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 cup rolled-oats
1/2 cup chopped walnut meats
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cook condensed milk and chocolate in double boiler until latter is melted and mixture is very thick. Add remaining ingredients mixing well. For each cookie, drop one level measuring tablespoonful on greased baking pan; bake in 375 degree oven for 10 minutes.

Special Executive Meeting Of Rose Ave. P.T.A. Conducted

Special executive committee meeting of the Rose Avenue P.T.A. was called June 5 to close the business matters for the year.

Business was in charge of Mrs. Jones, president, with the new and old executive committees in attendance. The decision was made that the president and program chairman for the coming year are to attend the summer leadership training course at Slippery Rock State Teachers college.

Annual committee reports were read by the various committee chairmen. Mrs. Jones, president, extended her thanks to the old executive committee for their help and cooperation during the past year.

Miss Blucher and Miss Armstrong were presented with cash awards for winning the attendance pennant for this year.

A discussion held concerning the recreation and playground facilities in New Castle. The need for more and better recreational opportunities for the children was pointed out. Other problems of the educational facilities were discussed and the role P.T.A. can play in fulfilling these needs in New Castle.

Sampson Alliance Will Have D.V.B.S.

Mrs. Lester Schleh, wife of the pastor of the Sampson Alliance church and Mrs. Charles Houk will conduct the Daily Vacation Bible school at that church starting Monday, June 11 and continuing until June 22. Sessions are planned daily from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The course of study to be used will be the "Blood Line."

There will be a display of work done and a program on Friday evening June 22 at 7:30 o'clock in the neighborhood. A competent staff will be handling the various classes.

More Winners From Sunny Avenue Picnic

Names of additional winners in the Sunny avenue annual picnic contests, held Tuesday at the school, are: Third and fourth grade winners, Elizabeth Augustine, Bertha Peters, Leroy Deerfield and Donald Latimer. Winners in the fifth and sixth grade are: Carol Heber, Deloris Micco, Wayne Slater and Howard Deerfield.

Miss Kisthart and Mrs. King judged the doll contest with prizes going to Virginia Vale, Edrye Bartlett, Beverly Fattison, Deborah Magee, Betsy Augustine, Mary Margaret Krieter, Vinci Perrotti and Donna Ward.

J. Arthur Turek and Mrs. James judged the boys hobby display. Prizes were awarded to Bruce Wallace, Danny Farrington, Thomas Lewis, Bobby Glass, and Gary Johnson, honorable mention.

Camp Thompson Near Ellwood Available For Boy Scout Use

Ernest D. Hawk, chairman of the camping and activities committee of Lawrence County Boy Scouts, has announced that Camp Thompson, near Ellwood, will be continued as a short term weekend camp.

The camp, located along Connoquenessing creek, has pure water and sanitary facilities as well as several cabins available for use.

Scout troops in the New Castle area, wishing to use Camp Thompson, should make reservations at the scout office.

Name Workers For Baptist D.V.B.S.

Dr. Garth Koch, new pastor of the First Baptist church, will serve as general superintendent of the Daily Vacation Bible school to be conducted at the downtown church, June 11 to 22.

The school opens Monday at 9 a.m. with registration to take place at that time. Sessions continue until noon daily. Boys and girls four through 16 are invited to attend.

The following will participate in the leadership: Beginners, Mrs. Stewart Joseph; Primary, Mrs. Jake Stoner; Juniors, Mrs. Clara M. Lutz; Intermediate, Mrs. Montgomery Rodgers; Music, Mrs. Mary Virginia Mooney; recreation, Mrs. Jess McCann.

The course being used is the Scripture Press course. A closing program is planned for the conclusion of the school with the date to be announced.
